MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT : Qualification Tests - OXCART

It is suggested that the nature and extent of aircraft sub-systems qualification testing planned and accomplished should be given a thorough technical review to assure, to the maximum extent possible, adequacy of all equipment over the range of operational usage, plus a safety factor. This review should be accomplished before first flight of the equipment, by a technical manager (possibly LAC), and should include review of LAC as well as other suppliers. Such a review should tend to not only assure adequacy, but that there are no omissions of equipment or tests.
